An Introduction to Anthroposophy

A Six Week Course
Led by Grant Davis

In this course, you will be introduced to the remarkable, enlivening ideas of Rudolf Steiner, usually referred to as anthroposophy, or spiritual science. You will learn of the hidden worlds of soul and spirit that are the foundation of daily life. You will see the vast trajectory of humanity's development and your place in this great drama. You will learn what happens after death and the role of karma in human unfolding. You will learn how to begin the path of knowledge yourself. Artistic and practical experiences will serve to help you assimilate new ideas and perspectives.

Just as the scientific revolution transformed human culture bringing us great advances in science, technology and commerce, so the spiritual scientific revolution Steiner initiated will transform humanity's self-understanding, equipping us with new capacities. Through developing conscious relationships with the spiritual beings we will learn how to live in harmony with nature and develop effective new social and economic forms of life.
